Составьте 5 вопросов по содержанию текста.

Meals.

In most countries East or West eating out has now become very popular. A lot of eating places ranging from high-class restaurants to factory canteens serve for all tastes at various prices.

Normally a meal in a restaurant takes time. Usually you tell the waiter what you want for first two courses; he will take your order for dessert and coffee later. When paying the bill it is customary to tip waiters, however in most restaurants a service charge is nowadays added to avoid individual tipping. If you want to have a quick lunch you may decide on a snack-bar, a café or even your office vending machine where you can get sandwiches and other snacks.

Every country has its own popular places which traditionally specialize in certain dishes. For example, kebab grills, “guss”(мясное блюдо), fried chicken are quite common in the Arab world.

First-class five star hotels treat their guests to “Swedish board”, which gives you a quick and delicious meal. Other services such as Coffee Shops are also commonly available.

2.14. Выучите диалоги.

At the Reception.

Receptionist: Mr. Bell, I'd like you to meet Mr. Somov - a member of the Russian delegation. They arrived three days ago.

Mr. Bell: Hello, how are you, Mr.Somov?

Mr. Somov: Hello, I'm fine. Thank you.

Mr. Bell: How long will you be staying here?

Mr. Somov: Not very long really. For a couple of weeks.

Mr. Bell: That's good. What would you like to drink?

Mr. Somov: I'd like a lager, please.

B: Wouldn't you care for something a little stronger?

S: No thank you. I am off alcohol.

B: There's some orange juice. Will you have some as well?

S: Yes, thank you.

B: It's Swedish board here. Let's help ourselves. These mutton chops look delicious, don't they?

S: I'll have roast beef with fried potatoes and peas. It looks wonderful.

B: I'd recommend you to try this meat. It's cooked with mushrooms and is very hot.

S: I'll take one helping, I'm not very keen on spicy food. It makes me ill sometimes.

A Quick Snack

Mister Smith: We've done a good job. Let's have a break for a while.

Russian Visitor: I wouldn't say "no" to that.

M.S.: There's a snack-bar just round the corner. Shall we go in?

R.V.: Let's go, it's lunch time. The place may be a bit crowded.

M.S.: We can get something from those vending machines.

R.V.: I'll have a coke, please.

M.S.: Fine. I'll go and get some sandwiches and a couple of cokes for us.

At a Self-Service café.

R.V.: What would you recommend, Mr. Ali?

M.S.: Have you ever tried kebab grills? How about a portion of kebabs and some beer? You know Iraqi beer is particularly good.

R.V.: All right. I'll try that. Do we help ourselves?

M.S.: Sure, it's self-service here.

Coffee Break During the Talks.

Secretary: Tea or coffee, sir?

R.V.: Tea for me, thank you.

S: How do you like it?

R.V.: Strong with two spoonfuls of sugar, please.

M.S.: Would you care for a cup of tea now?

R.V.: I'd rather have a cup of coffee.

S: How do you like it?

R.V.: Black and no sugar, please.

M.S.: And I'll have a coffee with cream and biscuit, please.

2.15. Прочитайте следующие правила поведения за столом.

A list of Do's and Don'ts.

- Keep your feet under you, don't stretch them all the way under the table.
- After stirring your tea remove the spoon and place it on the saucer.
- Don't use a spoon for what can be eaten with a fork.
- When eating stewed fruit use your spoon to put the stones on your saucer.
- Don't put your knife into your mouth.
- Vegetables, potatoes, macaroni are placed on your fork with the help of your knife.
- Cut your meat into small pieces that can be chewed with ease. Cut off one piece at a time. If your food is too hot don't blow on it as though you were trying to start a campfire on a damp night.
- Your spoon, knife and fork are meant to eat with, they are not drumsticks and should not be banged against your plate.
- Try to make as little noise as possible when eating.
- Don't sip your soup as though you wanted the whole house to hear.
- Don't shovel food into your mouth, take small pieces.
- Don't talk with your mouth full.
- First chew and then swallow.
- Don't pick your teeth in company after the meal even if toothpicks are provided for the purpose.
- And, finally, don't forget to say "thank you" for every favour or kindness.

What do you avoid eating?

What did you have for breakfast (lunch, dinner, supper) yesterday?

So, what is the heaviest (lightest) meal with you classmates?

2.18. Eating out.

Victor is talking to Richard about food and eating places.

V: I wonder what “fast food” is.

R: Do you know what “fast” is and what “food” is?

V: I guess I do. Does it mean food that is served quickly?

R: Yes, there are many fast food restaurants here.

V: Oh, I’ve been to one already.

R: You were in and out in ten minutes?

V: That’s right. There wasn’t much on the menu either.

R: Usually there isn’t. Did you have a hamburger?

V: Exactly. A hamburger and French fries.

R: I personally can never tell the difference between Superburger, MacDonalds or Burger King.

V: I’m not a big eater either. And sandwich was pretty big.

R: Anyway it’s very convenient when you are downtown and have only ten minutes for lunch.

V: And what’s your favourite place in New York?

R: Oh, we don’t often go out. But when we do, it’s either a French or Italian restaurant.

V: Are they downtown?

R: Yes, they are. The service is good there.

V: What does the French place look like?

R: It’s a real good place.

V: And the food?

R: The food is delicious. First class. If you like, we can have your farewell party there.

V: Oh, I’d love to. But I want something typically American. No French wine for me this time. California wine would be fine.

R: Okay. Then we’ll have American food.

Sergei: Hello Jack!

Jack: Hello Sergei!

Sergei: Glad to see you in Russia again! How was your flight? Was everything ok?

Jack: Well, it's fine. But I'm so tired and hungry.

Sergei: Oh, what about having lunch in the nice restaurant and you can tell me about your flight?

Jack: Why not? It would be awesome.

(In the restaurant)

Sergei: Let me choose some dishes for you. I know the specialties here are very tasty.

Jack: No problem. You know the menu better.

Sergei: (to the waiter) We'll have 2 Greek salads with oil dressing, 2 lasagna and 2 cheesecakes.

Waiter: Anything to drink?

Sergei: Jack?

Jack: A bottle of still mineral water, please.

Sergei: A cup of green tea for me. Thank you. ... So, tell me about your flight.

Jack: Nothing special. Another boring business trip

Sergei: I hope here you'll not be bored. The program is very packed. But we are going to talk about the work tomorrow. How is your meal, by the way?

Jack: Very tasty. I'm surprised with the dessert.

Sergei: Oh. That's good. It's one of my favourite places in the town. Ok, I'll pay the bill and take you to the hotel.

Jack: Let's pay 50/50.

Sergei: No, no. Be my guest. See you tomorrow at 8 a.m.

5.4. Напишите положительный и отрицательный комментарий для веб сайта кафе или ресторана в вашем городе

For example:

Positive: 😊

The food is very good and reasonably priced. This is real Italian food. I would recommend one of the veal dishes-especially the saltimbocca. The calamari appetizer is also very good, with a nice spicy sauce. The wait staff is experienced, knowledgeable and appropriately attentive. All in all, a really good choice for Italian food.

Negative: 🙄

The food is very tasty...but that's about where the positive comments end. Menu is very overpriced and dishes are small portioned. My party of six of small eaters got 2 soups, 2 apps, 5 dishes and 2 desserts and it was all eaten. Normally we order 4 dishes and maybe an app at other Thai restaurants and leave with leftovers. In fact, I still left hungry.
